

Marshall Craig

Land use forum scheduled here

The Human Issues Forum of Sikeston, in cooperation with the Missouri Committee for the Humanities, will present a three-part series dealing with the topic, "A Humanistic Look At Land Use in Southeast Missouri." The first meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. May 4 in the Security Federal savings & Loan Association community room, 820 N. Main St., and will be open to the public.

The first session will focus on the question, "Who owns the land?" Judge Marshall Craig, circuit judge of Scott and Mississippi counties, will present the legal aspects of public and private land ownership, and Gene Ramsey a history department professor at Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau, will trace the history of land use and development in the United States.

Charles Bonwell, assistant professor of history at Southeast Missouri State University, whose prime area of interest and study is the history of technology, will be the presiding moderator for this and the following two sessions. Bonwell's function will be to provide an objective humanistic perspective on the three programs.

Chamber banquet tickets available

Tickets are still available at the Sikeston Area Chamber of Commerce office, 1 Industrial Drive, for the chamber's annual banquet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Ramada Inn.

The Man of the Year Award will be presented to an outstanding representative of business or industry following the banquet.

The speaker will be Dr. Kenneth McFarland, author of "Eloquence in Public Speaking" and a noted lecturer and public speaker. McFarland was named an Outstanding American of 1974 by the Los Angeles Philanthropic Foundation and has received the Freedom Foundation's prestigious National Leadership Award and Free Enterprise Exemplar Medal.

He has been called the greatest public speaker in the United States.

McFarland will speak on the topic, "America's Opportunity", a Bicentennial address directed toward every group or individual who identifies with "our beloved American heritage and wants to guarantee that this nation will endure and grow in freedom and opportunity."

For ticket information, call the chamber office at 471-2498.

Mower, radio, cash stolen

A lawn mower, citizens band radio, tape player and $500 have been reported stolen in separate thefts, police said today.

The lawn mower, valued at $115, was taken from the A. D. Adams home, 115 School St., between Wednesday and Saturday.

A citizens band radio valued at $179 was taken from a car belonging to Carl Barnett, 301 Brum Ave., between 11:30 p.m. Sunday and 4:20 a.m. Monday, while the car was parked at the Barnett home. Also taken was a leather briefcase containing papers and a pocket calculator. The theft was discovered by a patrolling police officer.

An eight-track tape player was taken from a car belonging to William Rowe, Route One, while the vehicle was parked at the Community Club, 223 Felker St. The tape player was valued at $69.

Thieves took $500 from a drawer in an office at Merit Battery, Keystone Drive, between Saturday and Monday. Police said there was no sign of forced entry.

Candidates predict win today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jimmy Carter, Henry Jackson and Morris Udall each forecast success today in Pennsylvania's presidential primary, a race that could determine whether there's room for the brokers at the Democratic National Convention.

If Carter, the former Georgia governor, wins decisively it could make him tougher to stop in the remaining primaries.

Victory by Jackson or Udall, however, would increase the possibility that Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, an easy winner in Pennsylvania four years ago, will become a candidate after June 8, when all the primaries are over.

President Ford was alone on the Republican ballot, unchallenged in Pennsylvania by Ronald Reagan. The 103 GOP delegates will be uncommitted, though all are expected to be in Ford's pocket.

Statewide, Pennsylvanians nominated candidates for the U.S. Senate seat now held by retiring Republican Minority Leader Hugh Scott. Two congressmen are among the contestants to succeed Scott, Democrat William Green of Philadelphia and Republican H. John Heinz 3d of Pittsburgh.

There were 2,801,649 Democrats and 2,221,639 Republicans eligible to vote. At stake were party nominations for state treasurer, state auditor general, 25 seats in Congress, half of the seats in the 50-member state Senate and all 203 state representative seats.

The 9,638 polling places in 67 counties remain open 13 hours, closing at 8 p.m.

It's the presidential sweepstakes that offers the glamour, and in Pennsylvania it was a two-part primary — 1. The non-binding popularity contest, and 2. The election of convention delegates.

Carter, claiming his polls indicated he was the choice of a majority of the people, said he would win the popularity voting provided the turnout was good.

Jackson, the U.S. senator from Washington State, said he would get a majority of the 134 convention delegates to be elected, plus a proportionate share of the 44 others to be selected later by the party's state committee.

Udall, who represents Arizona in Congress, predicted he would finish no worse than second in both the popularity and delegate battles.

Besides the three top contenders, the Democratic ballot also listed Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, Indiana Sen. Birch Bayh, antiabortion candidate Ellen McCormack, former Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris and Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp.

Shapp, Bayh and Harris quit the presidential race after failing to make any impact in the early primaries.

Jackson, backed by most of the state's labor officials and many party leaders, bristled at suggestions that he is a fading candidate simply heading a stop-Carter movement for Humphrey's eventual entry.

"I don't get involved in such suppositions and iffy questions," Jackson told reporters. "Humphrey is not a candidate (and) I'm going to do very well."

Carter planned to take his campaign to Connecticut today. Udall headed for Maryland and Jackson rested at his Washington, D.C., home.

All rented hotel ballrooms in Philadelphia and prepared to wait for returns there.

Committee okays small claims court

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missourians might have the chance to appeal relatively small legal settlements under a proposed small claims court system agreed to by a legislative committee Monday.

Negotiators from both the House and Senate agreed to the bill which establishes the small claims court and expands the powers of the magistrate judges, and without any surprises, the measure will go to the desk of Gov. Christopher S. Bond for his scrutiny.

In other committee action, a House panel approved an emergency fifth distribution of state aid to public schools, while another compromise group tried to iron out differences on a sweeping revision of the state's court systems.

The emergency funding measure was suggested recently by Bond because he maintained a shortage of state funds would prevent proper funding on the fourth, and final, payment date for the schools during this fiscal year.

Rep. Harold Volkmer, the House leader of the small claims bill, said he hoped to present the compromise measure to the entire House either today or Wednesday.

The bill has been a priority of both Bond and legislative leaders since the outset of the session.

Anyone wishing to file a claim under $500 can initiate the action in the proposed small claims system, which will be supervised by magistrates, for no more than a $10 fee.

Normal court rules and regulations are not admissible in the proposed system, designed to permit the "average guy" a chance to file a lawsuit without enormous legal costs. The compromise measure does provide for attorneys to be present if desired by those involved in the suit.

The other court revision bill being examined by both House and Senate representatives would restructure much of the existing court systems, the extent of which are the main points of contention.

Senate head negotiator Maurice Schechter of Creve Coeur remains adamant that municipal court judges must be lawyers. Currently they can be lay people and serve in that capacity.

"They can send people to jail," Schechter emphasized. "We need lawyers in those positions or this bill will make us the laughing stock of the state."

Volkmer, also serving as chief House bargainer for this bill, said he would be willing to accept the judge requirement, but predicted the entire House would defeat such a move.

In addition to creating the small claims court system, that bill would increase the responsibilities for magistrate court judges in an attempt to alleviate some of the crowded circuit court dockets. The magistrates would receive an additional $3,000 annually for their increased scope of duties.

The emergency school funding bill contains a provision which Bond opposes. Under it, future state payments to the schools would be made in 10 equal payments, rather than the present four unequal allotments.

The measure still faces debate from both houses before hitting Bond's office.

More funds okayed for Essex project

ESSEX — Approval of a $21,093 increase in state funds for a sewage treatment system for the city of Essex was announced by the Missouri Clean Water Commission following a recent commission meeting in Jefferson City.

The funding increase is in addition to an original state grant of $17,654 and a federal grant from the Environmental Protection Agency of $88,270. The city is also anticipating approval of a $105,467 federal increase which would bring total project funding to more than $230,000. Plans call for construction of a complete sewage collection and treatment system utilizing a three-cell aerated lagoon. State and federal funds approved to date will finance only the treatment system, with collection units to be financed through municipal bond funds or other grants.

Construction bids were opened April 6 and are now being reviewed by EPA prior to awarding of contracts. Plans call for construction to begin this summer, according to project engineering spokesmen.

Accident injures 1

BENTON — A Sikeston man, Rannis Elvis Coram, 30, was seriously injured Monday night in a one-car accident two and a half miles north of town on Interstate 55.

Coram, a passenger in a car driven north by McKinley Kent, 24, of Sikeston, was taken to St. Francis Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

The highway patrol said the accident occurred at 10:20 p.m. when the Kent car came down a hill and struck an unattended car parked in the driving lane with its lights off. Kent's car then ran off the road and landed upside down in the median.

The other vehicle, whose owner was not identified on the accident report, was towed away.

Support for dismissed teachers heard by East Prairie board

EAST PRAIRIE — Eleven teachers from two elementary schools and the junior high school appeared Monday night before the East Prairie R-2 Board of Education in support of four teachers whose contracts were not renewed for the 1976-77 school year.

The teachers, whose contracts were not renewed by the April 15 deadline, included: Myrna Carlisle, junior high English; Paul Cannon, junior high industrial arts; Carol Eck, second grade at R. A. Doyle Elementary School, who has taught in the district five years; Gary Risenhoover, high school mathematics and junior high coach; and Faye McCoy, special education and a teacher in the district for 13 years, who resigned.

With the exception of Mrs. McCoy, all the teachers were probationary. To be a tenured teacher, one must teach in the district five years and have his or her contract renewed for the sixth year.

Appearing before the board were Mrs. Carlisle, Miss Eck, Cannon and Mrs. McCoy. Risenhoover did not appear.

A Daily Standard reporter present at the meeting during routine business was asked to leave during the executive session with the teachers.

Comments heard from the teachers as they waited to go before the board indicated that those whose contracts were not renewed for the coming year were well liked by their students and respected by fellow teachers.

Following the meeting, some of the teachers and Ronald Carter, board president, said that all concerned had an interest in the betterment of the school system. No other comments were heard from the board.

Additional resignations accepted Monday night included

Shirley Hall, Doyle Elementary; Cheri Myrick and Diane Sevic, senior high school; and Rosemary Hess, Martin Elementary. All submitted resignations to remain at home with either newborn or expectant babies.

The board has earlier accepted the resignation of Coach David McMahon, who has accepted a position in the Fredericktown school system.

Jean Savell was employed for high school English and Helen Hedge was contracted earlier to teach special education.

The board approved a breakdown on the school fund levy of $3.25. Of the total amount, $1.60 will go for the teachers fund, $1 for incidental fund, 25 cents to the building fund and the remaining 40 cents for debt service.

The resignation of Joe Watson as school treasurer, submitted due to ill health, was accepted, and Gene Aycock was appointed to replace him.

The board authorized school administrators at the junior and senior high schools to operate closed campuses at their schools during the noon hour in the 1976-77 school year. Students will remain on campus from arrival to dismissal, and lunches will be served at each school. Students may also eat at the snack bar, which will have extended service next year, or bring their own lunches.

supt. Gerald McElrath said principals at the schools have indicated that a closed campus will enable them to operate a better class schedule and maintain closer supervision of students. An earlier dismissal hour will also be scheduled at the high school.

Delivery of five new school buses was accepted by the board. The buses were purchased from Kranz Automotive body co. of St. Louis at a cost of $11,460 each.

Malpractice bills win approval

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The final legislative week's countdown began Monday, with passage of a partial ban on studded snow tires and a package of bills aimed at holding down medical malpractice insurance rates.

The Senate finally approved a bill which bans the controversial studded tires from April 1 through Oct. 31. The measure falls short of a proposed year-round ban, but its sponsor, Liberty Democratic Sen. William Waters, said the partial ban is a good beginning.

One of the medical malpractice measures allows the state to form an underwriting insurance company if existing private companies decline to offer their malpractice insurance policies.

In an attempt to eliminate much of the publicity surrounding the malpractice cases, another bill was sent to Gov.

Christopher S. Bond which would prevent any person filing suit for damage from alleged malpractice seeking specific dollar amounts.

The third portion of the medical package would require insurance companies issuing malpractice coverage to file annual reports on such policies with the state Division of Insurance.

If Bond signs the studded tire ban, and no indication exists that he opposes it, it will go into effect Aug. 13.

The Senate also sent the governor a measure changing the attendance requirements of meetings held by the state Highway Commission.

The upper chamber defeated a bill requiring public institutions in Missouri to buy beef which has been raised and processed in this country.

The measure was not taken too seriously by the majority of the Senate, who voted to tack on extraneous amendments, including discussion to ban Swiss-made watches from the state.

Sen. Paul Bradshaw, R-Springfield, typified the feeling of the majority opposing the measure, saying it amounted to "silly legislation" and would "shut Missouri off from the rest of the world."

The malpractice proposals would also establish a screening panel to examine all proposed malpractice lawsuits before they are filed in court.

Increased powers for the Board of Registration for the Board of Healing Arts were granted to enforce tighter control over its physician member competency.

Other bills sent to Bond would:

—Reduce red tape required for stepparents to legally adopt their spouses' children.

—Permit annual rather than biannual publication of the laws enacted during legislative sessions.

—Allow retired state workers with professional or technical skills to collect their pensions while working as consultants for the state.

—Revise current law regulating the reorganization of insurers in the state.

—Authorize the governor to accept jurisdiction over federally owned lands in the state.

The Senate, during the first night session of the legislature's final week, sent Bond a bill which raises fees collected by state Revenue Department fee offices from 40 to 60 cents.

The independent fee operators receive no subsidization for salaries, costs, etc. from the state, and they maintain inflation has created the need to increase the fees in order to continue operation.

Ruling expected by Friday

Arguments presented in Garrison case

GREENVILLE, Miss. — The defense maintained Monday that Missouri authorities have failed to establish proper grounds to seek extradition of Dr. Norman Garrison, a Corinth physician charged with murdering his former wife in the Missouri Bootheel.

Maintaining the weight of evidence showed the 34-year-old doctor was on a houseboat at Pickwick Lake at the time his former wife, Lee Ann Garrison, was murdered at her fashionable Kennett, Mo., home, Dr. Garrison's attorney said if extradition were permitted it would "emasculate the writ of habeas corpus."

Ed Snyder, representing the Mississippi attorney general's office, continued the state's argument that Missouri need not establish probable cause in seeking the return of Dr. Garrison to stand trial.

Federal District Court Judge William B. Keady, taking the arguments under advisement, indicated he will rule in the case no later than Friday.

The Mississippi Supreme Court last week denied Dr. Garrison's petitions for a rehearing of an earlier order, clearing the way for the physician's extradition. But Keady delayed the proceeding by granting the habeas corpus hearing, giving the physician a last-ditch chance to avoid trial in Missouri.

Dr. Garrison posted $100,000 bond in Holly Springs.

The state Supreme Court last month overturned a Marshall County Circuit Court decision and ordered Dr. Garrison held for extradition. In their unsuccessful request for a rehearing, defense attorneys claimed a "lack of probable cause" for Garrison's arrest was shown during the lower court proceeding.

Dr. Garrison was charged with first-degree murder on Sept. 8, 1974, only hours after Mrs. Garrison's body was found in the bedroom of her home.

Former Gov. Bill Waller, following an administrative hearing on the case, ordered the doctor sent to Missouri. Dr. Garrison appealed Waller's decision to a habeas corpus court, contending there was insufficient evidence to warrant the extradition order.

Brown overruled Waller's order on the basis of conflicting testimony after several witnesses testified Dr. Garrison was at Pickwick Lake the night of the murder.

In reversing Brown's order, the Supreme Court held that "such a conflict (alibi vs. fingerprint) must be decided by the trial court of the demanding Missouri court — not the habeas corpus court as occurred here."

And, for the first time in the fight against extradition, the extradition papers themselves were introduced into evidence over the objections of Snyder, who claimed Dr. Garrison's attorneys had "deliberately bypassed a state court remedy."

Dr. Garrison's attorneys argued that the arrest warrant listed only the charge against him, complaining that "in order to obtain a search warrant, you would have to have more."

The defense also argued that evidence showed there is "no doubt that Dr. Garrison was at Pickwick Lake (near Corinth) at the time the alleged crime was committed."

Dr. Garrison's attorneys argued that Missouri's so-called best evidence was developed after the warrant for his arrest was issued, claiming that a fingerprint in blood, said by experts to be Garrison's, and a footprint in blood, also alleged to be Garrison's, were reliable evidence.

THEY SHAME

US ALL

By HOWARD FLIEGER

It is like the gasp forced by a sudden illness to be made to feel ashamed of being an American.

Yet, each and every one of us must feel soiled and degraded because of the mindless conduct of a handful of showoffs in Madison, Wis., the other day.

Imagine spitting into the face of a man who many consider worthy of being elected President of the United States.

Imagine the cruelty of mocking a crippled Governor who aspires to national leadership by taunting him with caricatures of a maniac who maimed him four years ago.

One need not be an admirer of Henry Jackson or George Wallace to be revolted by the crudities of a few who took it upon themselves to bring a presidential campaign down to the sordid level of a Saturday-night brawl in a back alley.

The tragedy is that all of us are their victims, splattered by their muck. Nobody could look at the photograph of Senator Jackson with a glob of spittle coursing down his brow without being ashamed.

There is yet another humiliation. In all likelihood, those who insulated us in Madison aren't even voters. Chances are they won't be around when the polls open.

In the opinion of this writer, they were a coarse-mannered rabble. And the sad thing is that they chose for their uncouth demonstration the soil of a State that has made a distinctive contribution to the political evolution of this country.

Wisconsin produced Joe McCarthy. But it also produced the La Follettes, father and sons, and many others of marked stature. Agree with them or not, some of the great debates on national issues were put in motion by the people of Wisconsin. They added the ginger of discord, and they often added dignity to the public life of America.

Our political history is filled with antics. But it is also filled with cameos of a people who feel deeply the responsibility of governing themselves and of choosing those who will be their leaders.

One has only to read the Federalist Papers, the Lincoln-Douglas debates, the stimulating writings of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson to thrill at the acuteness of creative thinking that has seasoned the politics of America.

Any man or woman who chooses to bid for the right to lead this nation deserves its respect. One doesn't have to agree with a candidate's program. But each of them offers a choice, and it is both a privilege and a duty for the people to hear them out.

Do Americans spit on them?

Do Americans jeer, stone them with personal insults and demand them with tasteless reminders that four years ago somebody tried and failed to kill — and in so doing crippled a man in body but not in dedication?

Very, very few Americans do such things. That has been true for 200 years, and certainly will be true in the future.

But what of the few? Most of us have never been comfortable with the suppression of minorities. In one sense or another, we are all creatures of minorities. It is the minorities in meld that make majorities.

Still, personal tolerance of other views should not extend to the point of condoning those who besmirch us.

After the Madison episode, Governor Wallace's manager in Wisconsin said:

"Well, this is one of the things we have to put up with. There are a few sick individuals in our society."

That is typical of us Americans — we usually forgive those who offend. And we shrug and "put up with" conduct that hurts us in our own peace of mind.

But we certainly are entitled to resent those few who make the rest of us ashamed.

ADVANTAGES IN

BOTH

Some candidates for the presidency, and some citizens of Missouri are for sending an uncommitted delegation to the National Democratic Convention; others feel that the delegates should be instructed to vote for certain candidates.

There are arguments for both. If we send uncommitted delegates, those who attend and vote in the county, district and state conventions coming up soon will have little or no voice in the final choice of a presidential candidate. It will be decided by the few who go as delegates, and might end up, as it did four years ago, with someone being backed who was not the choice of the majority of the folks back home.

If we send committed delegates, we lose some of the punch and power that an uncommitted delegation carries at the Convention, where it might be possible that the Missouri vote could determine, in a close convention vote, who was to be the final choice for the job.

Either way has disadvantages and advantages. Personally, we'd prefer and preferential primary in Missouri. That way, win or lose, we'd get the true expression of the people of the state.

Gov. Bond vs. PRESIDENT RATCHFORD THERE'S MORE TO IT THAN THE SHOUTING...

Stripping away politics and personalities, the dispute between Gov. Bond and University President Ratchford lies in a basic disagreement over the nature of public communications.

Gov. Bond believes in a narrow, centralized channel of information between the University and its various constituencies. He would have the University speak with "one voice," preferably through the chain of command, exclusively to him or to the legislature. He then would determine the validity of the University's message.

The ironic element in what has become an ugly and unseemly affair is that President Ratchford himself generally was committed to the same communications policy until this year.

The President had been the exclusive spokesman on all University matters. He used his former legislative aide, Sterling Kyd, to walk the legislative halls, whispering the "official word" from the University. Sometimes, Dr. Kyd would slip through a side door, plotting deals and compromises with recalcitrant politicians.

But Dr. Kyd isn't around any more. As almost everyone will agree, that unitary, conspiratorial approach to University-State relations did not work. The University's needs are so complex and its operations so diffuse—and legislators so busy—that no unitary communications program can cope.

Dr. Kyd did not, and could not possibly, understand the nuances of all University policy and operations. There were simply not enough hours in the day or days in the week for President Ratchford to make a dent in the wall of suspicion that divides the legislature from the University.

Gradually, however, President Ratchford has come to realize that good public communications, by its very nature, must speak with many voices to many pairs of ears. All of the University's constituencies—faculty, students, alumni, taxpayers, as well as the governor and the legislature—must understand the University's problems and needs if the University is to perform its educational mission.

Thus, after much debate in University Hall, the Ratchford administration this year adopted a new, open communications policy. The chancellors, deans, faculty, students and alumni—for the first time—were welcomed into the communications process. Each was urged to inform himself of the problems and to explain those problems to any and all persons disposed to listen.

Now, such a policy could result in a meaningless babble of voices without at least moderate guidelines. So the respective chancellors were urged to discuss University concerns with groups of faculty, students and alumni. Each element was cautioned against quarreling with other elements about a division of revenues and to confine themselves primarily to those University operations with which they had personal knowledge.

Nonetheless, an effort was made to acquaint everyone with the financial data, academic objectives and legislative needs that encompass the entire University.

On the Columbia campus, Chancellor Schoelling met each Tuesday at 7:30 a.m. with 25 or 30 persons broadly representtative of campus interests. The meetings were neither secret nor closed, nor did they produce any marching orders for anyone. But they were valuable sessions inas much as they helped to defuse intracampus rivalry and encouraged constructive communications with people both inside and outside the Jefferson City hierarchy.

Overall, the new State Relations Plan is an honest and reasonable approach to the University's long-standing credibility problem. It is not "blackmail," as the Governor has said; nor does it load the payroll with lobbyists, as others have said.

We regret that President Ratchford did not proclaim publicly his conversion to open communications at the beginning. The stamping of the plan "confidential," even in its discussion stage, was of course a travesty. Let us hope this mistake was but the last vestige of the old era.

It is a double irony that President Ratchford is catching hell from the Governor, the legislature and from some of his own faculty for this new approach to the University's ancient credibility problem.

Some of the Governor's aides mutter darkly about Ratchford's future, even though the Governor himself, quite properly, disavows any plans to meddle in such internal University matters.

We disagree with those who believe the Governor would use this current dispute to bully the President into resigning. We prefer to think that the dispute, as we said in the first place, is founded on honest differences of opinion about the nature of public communications and of the responsibilities of the University to speak directly to all its constituencies.

We hope that the Governor, too, may one day see what President Ratchford has come to see: that effective democracy depends upon the widest possible discussion of all subjects, by all the people. Isn't that really what the First Amendment is all about?

THE WELFARE

BOONDOGGLE

According to the economic signs we can read, the current Federal budget policy is the prime cause of today's inflationary trends. Specifically, we refer to that aspect of budget policy that accepts deficit spending year after year.

During a major war, no one really expects Uncle Sam to raise taxes by an amount sufficient to cover the costs of the conflict. Hence, deficit spending becomes necessary and logical. However, in recent years, substantial budget deficits have cropped up with increasing frequency, even in the face of declining defense expenditures.

Over the fiscal years 1961-73, there has been a budget deficit in every year but two. Continued budget deficits are another way of saying that presiding Administrations, Congress and the public are all quite willing to spend more and more money, but they are unwilling to come up with sufficient taxes to pay the costs. This type of situation is the major step along the road to inflation.

The Government's social expenditures have been increasing rapidly in recent years to the point where they are practically a national disgrace. In 1930, public welfare expenditures were less than 4 per cent of our Gross National Product. By 1970, welfare handouts had reached 15 per cent of the GNP, and were increasing by almost one percentage point a year. We now have the spectacle of mayors of cities facing financial crises chasing governors of states in financial crises, who are chasing a Federal Government that is already running a large deficit, thanks in large measure to the welfare giveaway.

The fires of inflation are also being fanned by a totally irresponsible expansion of the money supply. At one time, the Federal Reserve was relatively independent of the Treasury's financing policies. Recently, this independence has been eroded and the Fed feels impelled to support Treasury financing operations. This debatable policy has certainly done its share to add to the longer-range inflationary pressures on our economy.

The examples of hyperinflation in other countries in the past should not go unnoticed, particularly by politicians who believe that the printing press is the answer to any and all financial ills. For instance, the inflated recession in the German Weimar Republic gave birth to the Nazi Party; the French inflation calamity brought about the rise of Napoleon; the Communists picked up the pieces of the Chinese and Hungarian war-torn regimes; inflation and revolting people brought down Salvador Allende's communist regime in Chile; and the Peronists fell under the weights of inflation in Argentina.

If there is a lesson in this, it is that people will not stand by idly and watch the work of a lifetime go down the drain. They can, and will demand a change.

$112,000 TAG ON

BUTZ TRIP

A globe-girdling trip by Earl Butz, Agriculture secretary and 13 other government employees and nine of their wives is costing taxpayers an estimated $112,000 for use of an Air Force jet plane.

The Agriculture Department said Butz and the other federal employees now on the trip will be reimbursed by the government as usual for meals and other expenses, but the wives, while riding along free of charge, are paying their own non-travel bills.

Three newsmen also accompanied Butz's group and will not be required to share in the $112,000 expense for air travel, officials said. But like the wives, the newsmen are paying for meals, lodging and ground transport.

Butz has scheduled meetings and several speeches to promote American farm products and free trade policies.

The group left Washington April 11 and will return May 2.

Countries on the itinerary include New Zealand, Australia, Indonesia, Singapore, Malaysia, Greece, Bulgaria, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal.

On a cost-a-person basis, the $112,000 to be paid the Air Force for use of its plane averages $4,307 for each of the 26 persons on the trip around the world. A comparable tour by commercial airline, allowing for economy travel, would be about $2,439 a person.

The military aircraft was described by the Agriculture department as a "VC-135 with a seating configuration for 28 passengers and carrying a crew of 18, including flight personnel, stewards and security guards."

In addition to the 26 in Butz's group, John T. Smith, commercial counselor of the Australian embassy in Washington, and Mrs. Smith traveled as far as Australia, officials said.

Asked about Mrs. Butz and eight other wives on the trip, the department said it "will not bill non-government passengers since the cost is the same whatever the passenger load." A spokesman added that it was "not too unusual for wives to go along on this kind of goodwill trip" and that in some countries it is considered proper for spouses to be included.

The information about the trip was provided in writing by the Agriculture department at the request of a reporter.

Besides secretary and Mrs. Butz, other couples on the tour include Thomas Cowden, counselor to Butz, and Mrs. Cowden; Lester Edmond, deputy assistant secretary of state, and Mrs. Edmond; Glenn Tussey, assistant sales manager for Food for Peace, and Mrs. Tussey; Evan Hale, Butz's executive assistant, and Mrs. Hale; Eugene Ransom, Agriculture department Far East area officer and Mrs. Ransom; Claude Gifford, department director of communication, and Mrs. Gifford; William Caras, department trip project officer, and Mrs. Caras, and William Gould, department security, and Mrs. Gould.

Other federal employees in the party include David L. Hume, administrator of the department's Foreign Agricultural Service; Don Looper, director of information of the Foreign Agricultural Service; Jack Hattaway and Arthur Brunetti, security, and Mrs. Martha Lord, Butz's secretary.

Newsmen on the trip include Bernard Brenner, president of the Newspaper Farm Editors of America, Washington; William Mason, president of the National Association of Farm Broadcasters, WGN, Chicago, and Richard Krumme, president of the American Agricultural Association, Successful Farming magazine, Des Moines.

IT'S THE LAW

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON—One of the most important legal decisions of the last 50 years was made in Washington, D.C., last week. U.S. Dist. Judge Charles Richey ruled that employees whose continued employment is conditioned on submission to the sexual advances of their supervisors may sue their bosses for sex discrimination.

Judge Richey, in his opinion, said that, while the case before him involved a female subordinate employee and male boss, the situation could be reversed—and a finding of discrimination could be made where a female supervisor made sexual advances to the male employees in her office.

However, Judge Richey ruled, sexual discrimination probably could not be raised as an issue if the supervisor was bisexual and made demands on employees of each sex. The reason the ruling has such far-reaching implications is that it sets new guidelines for how bosses can behave during and after office hours all over the country. This is probably how things will go now.

"Miss Roseberry, that's a beautiful sweater you're wearing today."

"Thank you, Mr. Novak."

"And that's a lovely shirt you're wearing, Mr. Callihan."

"Thank you, Mr. Novak."

"Would you mind staying late tonight and helping me with my report, Miss Roseberry?"

"I-I-I guess so, Mr. Novak."

"You too, Callihan."

That night,

"Well, that seems to do it, Miss Roseberry. We got the report finished. What say we go out for a nice dinner?"

"I don't know, Mr. Novak. I think I'd better go home."

"Oh, let's relax. You know I've got my eye on you, and there is a promotion coming up in the department and I think I know someone who might be getting it. Heh, heh, heh."

"Well, all right, as long as we make it an early evening."

"You coming, Callihan?"

"Gee, Mr. Novak, I've got a date."

"Well, break it if you want to stay in this job."

"Yes, sir."

A small French restaurant.

"You know, Miss Roseberry, my wife doesn't understand me. You're the only one who knows the pressure I'm under."

"I do, too, Mr. Novak."

"When I want your opinion I'll ask for it, Callihan. Just eat your soup and shut up."

"Yes, sir."

"People think being a supervisor is all peaches and cream. But under this tough exterior, Miss Roseberry, beats the heart of a man with all the same desires and needs for love and affection as anyone else."

"If you hold my hand, Mr. Novak, I can't eat my soup."

"Sorry about that, Callihan."

Two hours later,

"Well, Miss Roseberry, here we are at your apartment. Can I come in for a drink?"

"Oh, it's so late, Mr. Novak."

"Remember what I said about that promotion, Miss Roseberry."

"All right, but just one drink."

"Get in here, Callihan. You don't leave until I leave."

"But I'm tired, Mr. Novak, and I have to review all those applications tomorrow morning."

"Who isn't tired? You think it's fun having to worry about being sued every time I take someone from the office out for dinner? You can take Miss Roseberry anywhere you want to. But if I take her I have to take you, too. I don't make that kind of money, Callihan."

"I guess it does take the fun out of being a boss, Mr. Novak."

"Oh, forget it. Why don't you get into something more comfortable, Miss Roseberry? You too, Callihan."

"Why me, Mr. Novak?"

"Because, dammit, it's the law!"

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:

Copping out on Anti-Trust Bill

with LES WHITTEN

WASHINGTON—President Ford dropped his support of legislation to curb corporate mergers after his most prominent campaign fundraiser complained about the bill to top White House and Treasury officials.

The decision to scuttle the consumer measure was reached at a secret White House meeting after fundraiser Bernard Lasker intervened. Lasker, an investment banker and former head of the New York Stock Exchange, has been a key member of Ford's executive campaign finance committee since November.

The amendment which so infuriated Lasker would have given the government a better chance to block major corporate mergers which often strangle competition and run up consumer prices.

But the legislation could also cost the client's of Lasker's internationally known investment firm hundreds of millions of dollars.

So, a few weeks ago Lasker began calling his friends in Washington to object to the anti-trust bill as "inflexible." He spoke with Treasury and White House officials, including the President's top economic aide, William Seidman.

Almost immediately, the matter was brought up at a closed meeting of the White House's powerful economic board. There, the Treasury officials whittled away at the arguments of the Justice Department's anti-trust chief Thomas Kauper. Finally, the Lasker view prevailed.

To avoid making Kauper publicly back down, the White House had his boss, Deputy Attorney General Harold Tyler, convey the bad news to Senate Anti-Trust Chairman Philip Hart, D-Mich.

"The Administration," wrote Tyler, "does not support enactment of the pre-merger stay provision." The letter all but sounded the death knell for the bill because of the implicit threat of veto.

Seidman, who acted as a fair-minded mediator in the matter, confirmed he had spoken to the powerful fundraiser about the provision. Treasury officials also conceded they spoke with Lasker. Lasker did not return our call.

Footnote: President Ford also flip-flopped on a previous anti-trust measure. After pressure from business groups, Ford reversed himself on a bill to allow states to file anti-trust suits on behalf of their consumers.

Nutrition program expands

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A federally-financed nutrition program to provide high vitamin and protein foods to low-income children and pregnant women will be expanded to serve more than five times as many persons, according to the Missouri Division of Health.

The expansion, to come over the next three months, will result in 16,000 more women and children receiving nutritional assistance. The program has been serving about 3,900 persons.

"By providing extra nutrients to such mothers and children, it is hoped to prevent or reduce the damage caused by poor nutrition," said Amy Anderson, who heads the Missouri program.

The expansion was made possible through revisions in several commodity food programs run by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Under the phased plan for increasing the number of people served, 14,000 women and infants will be transferred from a nutritional program operated by the Division of Family Services and 2,000 children between 1 and 5 years old will be directly added.

The expansion will affect families in 45 counties and the city of St. Louis.

Spring play to be given

BELL CITY — The Bell City Elementary School will present its biennial spring play, "Let George Do It," under the direction of Mrs. Jo Ann Irwin, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium. The program describes some of the events in the life of George Washington through the narration, vocal solos and biennial songs.

Ceremony set

Boy Scout Troop 49 of Morehouse will have an advancement ceremony at 6 p.m. tonight at the Boy Scout Building in Morehouse.

All parents are urged to attend.

Teens play Russian roulette with sex

Dear Ann Landers: I am 16, my boyfriend is 17. There is nobody we can trust with our problem but you.

We are very much in love and have been since Christmas. Last February we started to have sex. We will not stop so don't suggest it. We see nothing wrong with what we are doing so long as we are faithful to each other.

The problem is as follows: We don't use protection, because it doesn't feel natural. Also, it makes our love seem cheap, like it is just for fun. I'm afraid to take the Pill because of so much cancer in my mother's family. We are too young to get married and besides our parents wouldn't let us. Please don't suggest we talk to the school counselor. She is my aunt. We realize that what we are doing could lead to pregnancy. We don't want to have a baby. It would louse us up and get us in trouble with our families. (We are both Baptists.) Please give us some help. — In Love In Kentucky

Dear I.L.: If you don't go to a doctor and settle on some form of protection you are bound to get pregnant sooner or later.

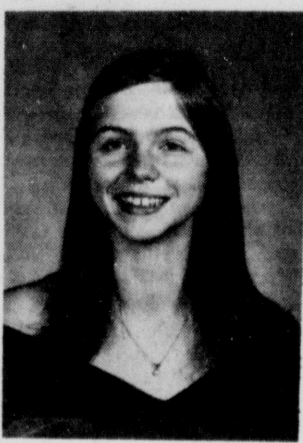

So far you've been plain lucky. Make an appointment at once — and I mean today.

Bulldogs win fourth straight

Kelly errors help Sikeston

By DALE FORBIS
Shortstop David Robert provided the offense and starting hurler Ronnie Schlosser was nearly untouchable during his stint, but in the end the Kelly Hawks' defense cost them a 3-2 loss to the Sikeston Bulldogs. Sikeston's fourth win in a row was highlighted by sparkling and error-free defensive work, while all three Kelly errors figured in the Sikeston scoring. Larry Jackson went the route to pick up the SHS victory.

Robert collected three straight hits and drove in both of Kelly's runs. However, none of his teammates were doing much damage to the junior Bulldog hurler. Jackson allowed no more than one safety in any inning and set down 11 Hawks on strikes.

Kelly hurler Ronnie Schlosser matched Jackson on the scoreboard, goose egg for goose egg, through the fourth. Then, the senior moundsman departed, mainly because the visitors have three more conference games scheduled for this week, then move right into the first round of district competition for the state playoffs. Schlosser allowed just two singles, walked none and fanned seven in his four innings. Reliever Mike McElmurry was saddled with the loss, but he was betrayed by bad defense.

Kelly reached Jackson for a run in the fifth. Don Milan was beamed to start the frame. The next batter bunted poorly and reached on a fielder's choice, then was sacrificed to second. With two out, Robert's third straight hit put Kelly ahead.

McElmurry went to the mound for Kelly in the bottom of the fifth and the Sikeston pitcher, Jackson, started some run-making noise of his own. He tripled to right center, then scored the tying marker on Wayne Barnett's sacrifice fly.

The Bulldogs went ahead in the sixth. Dale Deal led off with a hit, stole second and continued to third when new catcher Schlosser's wild throw sailed into center. McElmurry wild-pitched the Bulldog speedster home and Sikeston led 2-1.

Milan again started a scoring rally for Kelly in the seventh, but this time his method cost him much less discomfort. He worked Jackson for a free pass with one away, went to second on Joe Scherer's single and third when Stan Pattengill walked. Again the culprit in Sikeston's hair was Robert, this time with a sacrifice fly. The run tied the count at 2-2 and forced the contest to advance to the bottom of the seventh. The first meeting between the two teams had gone eight innings before being halted by darkness. But, thanks to the unwilling generosity of the visitors, a repeat was not to be.

With one down Jackson again

reached base, on a walk. A Gary Silverthorn grounder to third was bobbled, sending Jackson to second. He scored when Barnett's bouncer dribbled through the Kelly second sacker's legs into short rightfield. Errors, both mental and physical, had cost the Kelly team dearly during their 3-2 downfall.

Only one of Sikeston's three runs was earned, thanks to the Sikeston defenders and some ragged baserunning, all Kelly runs were earned. Two Hawks were gunned down trying to steal. Another Kelly runner was lost on the bad sacrifice try and the visitors wasted a six to four advantage in the hit department. It was an inauspicious beginning to what promises to be a tough week for the central Scott County power in 1-A baseball.

"I thought we played fine defense," said coach N.P. McDaniel after the game. In addition to David Shell's throwing, sophomore keystone man Gary Silverthorn came up with two defensive gems, one on a diving stop of a grounder and another on a pop fly into short right. Thirdbaseman Jeff Limbaugh played a big part in nipping a sixth inning rally when he cut off Kenny Hulshof's hard shot between third and short.

Sikeston's next game is Thursday when they host North Pemiscot. The Mustangs fell in the first meeting between the two teams, 3-1. McDaniel has indicated senior righthander Juaken Dumas is his hurling choice.

Bulldogs win fourth straight

Kelly errors help Sikeston

By DALE FORBIS
Shortstop David Robert provided the offense and starting hurler Ronnie Schlosser was nearly untouchable during his stint, but in the end the Kelly Hawks' defense cost them a 3-2 loss to the Sikeston Bulldogs. Sikeston's fourth win in a row was highlighted by sparkling and error-free defensive work, while all three Kelly errors figured in the Sikeston scoring. Larry Jackson went the route to pick up the SHS victory.

Robert collected three straight hits and drove in both of Kelly's runs. However, none of his teammates were doing much damage to the junior Bulldog hurler. Jackson allowed no more than one safety in any inning and set down 11 Hawks on strikes.

Kelly hurler Ronnie Schlosser matched Jackson on the scoreboard, goose egg for goose egg, through the fourth. Then, the senior moundsman departed, mainly because the visitors have three more conference games scheduled for this week, then move right into the first round of district competition for the state playoffs. Schlosser allowed just two singles, walked none and fanned seven in his four innings. Reliever Mike McElmurry was saddled with the loss, but he was betrayed by bad defense.

Kelly reached Jackson for a run in the fifth. Don Milan was beamed to start the game. The next batter bunted poorly and reached on a fielder's choice, then was sacrificed to second. With two out, Robert's third straight hit put Kelly ahead.

McElmurry went to the mound for Kelly in the bottom of the fifth and the Sikeston pitcher, Jackson, started some run-making noise of his own. He tripled to right center, then scored the tying marker on Wayne Barnett's sacrifice fly.

The Bulldogs went ahead in the sixth. Dale Deal led off with a hit, stole second and continued to third when new catcher Schlosser's wild throw sailed into center. McElmurry wild-pitched the Bulldog speedster home and Sikeston led 2-1.

Milan again started a scoring rally for Kelly in the seventh, but this time his method cost him much less discomfort. He worked Jackson for a free pass with one away, went to second on Joe Scherer's single and third when Stan Pattengill walked. Again the culprit in Sikeston's hair was Robert, this time with a sacrifice fly. The run tied the count at 2-2 and forced the contest to advance to the bottom of the seventh. The first meeting between the two teams had gone eight innings before being halted by darkness. But, thanks to the unwilling generosity of the visitors, a repeat was not to be.

With one down Jackson again

reached base, on a walk. A Gary Silverthorn grounder to third was bobbled, sending Jackson to second. He scored when Barnett's bouncer dribbled through the Kelly second sacker's legs into short rightfield. Errors, both mental and physical, had cost the Kelly team dearly during their 3-2 downfall.

Only one of Sikeston's three runs was earned. Thanks to the Sikeston defenders and some ragged baserunning, all Kelly runs were earned. Two Hawks were gunned down trying to steal. Another Kelly runner was lost on the bad sacrifice try and the visitors wasted a six to four advantage in the hit department. It was an inauspicious beginning to what promises to be a tough week for the central Scott County power in 1-A baseball.

"I thought we played fine defense," said coach N.P. McDaniel after the game. In addition to David Shell's throwing, sophomore keystone man Gary Silverthorn came up with two defensive gems, one on a diving stop of a grounder and another on a pop fly into short right. Thirdbaseman Jeff Limbaugh played a big part in nipping a sixth inning rally when he cut off Kenny Hulshof's hard shot between third and short.

Sikeston's next game is Thursday when they host North Pemiscot. The Mustangs fell in the first meeting between the two teams, 3-1. McDaniel has indicated senior righthander Juaken Dumas is his hurling choice.

Mustangs hold off Holcomb

WARDELL — The Holcomb Hornets erupted for five runs in the top of the seventh inning and sent the tying run to the plate, but winning pitcher Jeff Stone got the final out to secure a 10-8 victory for North Pemiscot in an opening round game of the District Ten Class A tournament played at Wardell Monday afternoon.

North Pemiscot will play Delta C-7 in the district quarterfinal game April 30 at the plate.

North Pemiscot coach Randy Winston makes the long stroll from dugout to mound to play the roll of "the hook" while Mustang pitcher Richard Tolbert during the fourth inning of Monday's District 10 game at Wardell. Tolbert was relieved by Jeff Stone, who picked up the victory as the Mustangs rallied to beat Holcomb 10-8.

Cards overcome early deficit to rout Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It took Al Hrabosky, the St. Louis Cardinals' star reliever, to put an end to a baseball game that had gotten out of hand in several ways.

"I don't like to pitch in those situations. I'm usually working in close games. With an eighth-inning lead, you can get lackadaisical," said Hrabosky after hurling the final three innings of Monday's wild, 15-7 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Hrabosky's theory may explain the Giants' collapse after taking a 7-1 lead in the first inning with the help of Ken Reitz' three-run home run in his first at-bat against his former team.

San Francisco starter Jim Barr made the first of five Giants' errors when he threw wildly past third base on a force play in the second inning. Two runs scored, and Barr then balked another run home.

"That throw to third base was the big play. Instead of holding that 7-1 lead, suddenly it was 7-4," said Manager Bill Rigney.

The Giants made two errors in the eighth when six unearned runs scored and the Cardinals' Vic Harris battled Giants pitcher Charlie Williams after getting nicked by a fastball.

"We think defense is one of our main strengths, but there was a crack in the dike in this game," said Rigney.

Ten St. Louis runs were unearned, but there also were 16 hits off six Giants pitchers. Starter Jim Barr allowed nine hits in 4 2-3 innings and admitted, "I didn't have it, and I knew it right away."

"We hadn't been scoring many runs. I think we were last in the league in runs. But we're going to score our share. We've got too many good hitters," said St. Louis Coach Preston Gomez, managing the team in the absence of Red Schoendienst whose oldest daughter, Colleen, is scheduled to undergo a kidney operation today.

Ron Fairly, inserted at first base for the slumping Keith Hernandez a day earlier, had four hits and three runs batted in against the Giants. Bake McBride raised his batting average to .389 with two hits, and his sacrifice fly in the sixth inning broke a 7-7 tie.

Hernandez delivered a triple in the sixth when he pinch hit for Mike Wallace, the first St. Louis reliever, and he scored on McBride's line drive to right fielder Bobby Murcer.

"I feel a lot better now. That's the first game I've helped us win," said Hernandez, the second-year player who went to the bench with a .135 average.

Little League meeting this Thursday night

There will be an important meeting of all players, coaches and managers in the Sikeston Little League this Thursday night, April 29, at the fieldhouse, according to Little League Commissioner Mike Foster.

The meeting will be to make plans for this year's Delicious Dollar fund raising program. The program, which is sponsored by Burger King, raised $3,800 for the Little League last season.

Thursday night's meeting will get underway at 7:00.

Bulldog golfers end Indian streak

The Sikeston Bulldogs golf team ended Kennett's 23-match winning streak here Monday afternoon with a 153-161 victory.

Greg Jarrell and Gaither Daugherty shot one under par 36's to share medalist honors. Chris Alberts shot 40 and Tim Stamp shot 41.

The Bulldogs are 8-2 on the season and play Perryville at the Sikeston Country Club Tuesday afternoon. District play begins at Poplar Bluff Monday afternoon.

Kennett defeated Sikeston junior varsity team 171-178.

Royals upset Tigers

NEELYVILLE — The Twin Rivers Royals upset the top seeded NHS Tigers 12-1 in the District 19 baseball tournament here Monday afternoon in the first round.

The Royals jumped on starter and loser John Patty for 11 hits in the game and winning pitcher Nick Broom gave up only three hits to the Tigers.

Patty matched pitches with

Broom through the first two innings but the Neelyville hurler lost his touch in the top of the third as the Royals pounded out five basehits with two errors mixed in between to score six runs. Ed Breckenridge singled in two runs, two runs scored on a missed fly and Bobby Moffitt singled in two runs in the inning.

Neelyville scored their lone run in the bottom of the fourth frame on a double by James Patty and a single by Gene Deckard.

Twin Rivers added to their lead in the top of the fifth inning on four singles with Moffitt and Larry Acre knocking in single runs. The Royals scored their last four runs in the top of the sixth as Lance and Moffitt batted in two each.

Bob Moffitt singled three times and knocked in five of the 12 runs for the Royals.

The victory brought the Royals record to 7-8 for the year.

Poise. The ability to perform under pressure, to rise to the occasion when the game moves up a notch in tempo and intensity. It's what playoff basketball is all about.

The Detroit Pistons, given little chance against mighty Golden State, squandered most of a 16-point lead but held on to beat the defending champion Warriors 106-102 at Detroit Tuesday night, evening their National Basketball Association playoff series at 2-2.

"We showed a lot of poise when they had us on the ropes," crowed Pistons Coach Herb Brown. "A lot of people say we can't win a pressure game. Well, this was a pressure game if there ever was one. In the last month and a half we've won a lot of pressure games."

In another best-of-seven quarter-final series, the Washington Bullets — beaten in the finals by Golden State last year — barely managed to stay alive. The Bullets wasted a 17-point advantage and had to go into overtime to beat the Cleveland Cavaliers 102-98 at Landover, Md. and even that series at 3-3.

1,645 turkeys killed

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri turkey hunters bagged a total of 1,645 gobblers Monday in the first day of the hunting season, the Missouri Department of Conservation reported.

Ste. Genevieve County topped the state by nabbing 114 birds, followed by Texas County with 72, Phelps County with 68, and Washington County with 67.

Joel Vance, of the Department of Conservation, said east central Missouri recorded the highest number of both hunters out in the fields as well as turkeys taken.

Senath wins in 8th

SENATH — Keith Milligan of

Senath-Hornersville and Ira Hart of Gideon faced each other on the mound as the two teams opened up play in the District 10 of the state baseball tournament there Monday afternoon and Milligan picked up the victory in eight innings 5-4.

Gideon was the first team to score after a scoreless first inning the Lions waited until two batters were retired before scoring as Milligan walked a batter, hit a batter and made a wild pitch to send the runners to second and third. Hensley unloaded a double to knock in the first two runs.

The Bulldogs behind Ira Hart sailed through the bottom of the second holding their host scoreless for the second straight inning. With the score 2-0 at the start of the bottom of the third inning the Lions began to zero in on the offering of Hart and after two singles and a walk loaded the bases, Robby Shrum uncorked a triple to chase the runners home to give the Lions the 3-2 lead.

After a scoreless fourth inning Senath increased their lead to 4-3 on a triple by Mike Hart and an rbi single by Ken Noble.

Gideon wasted no time coming right back and tying the score in the top of the sixth frame on an error and two singles.

Milligan was able to hold onto the lead in the seventh and eighth innings while his team-

Worker trapped in sewer

50 years ago
April 27, 1926
Malcolm Nicholson, working for the sewer contractors, was covered by the caving of the sewer where he was working. When it was discovered that he was buried by the cave-in, his co-workers worked rapidly and soon had the sand removed, without any serious injuries to him.

Morehouse—The funeral of John Forrester, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Forrester of Wahite, was held at Dexter Wednesday. Jno. was only ill three days and died on Tuesday of appendicitis. He was 13 years old.

Frank Heisler left for St. Louis on Thursday, where he will superintend the building of an amusement park for interests under the supervision of A. A. Ebert. In addition to the buildings that go with such a place, there is to be erected 100 cottages to contain five to six rooms each. Mr. Heisler expects to be on the job for about a year.

Funeral services for Paul Schuering, who died at his home near Kewanee Saturday after suffering a stroke of paralysis, were held at the residence Monday.

Mrs. Sarah Lumsden, mother of David Lumsden of Sikeston, died Sunday at the home of a son, Hugh Lumsden, in Union City, Tenn.

Sikeston students came home from Cape Girardeau Saturday with a lion's share of awards offered by the Southeast Missouri State Teachers' College in contests of its annual district high school meet. "Four on a Heath," the one-act play Miss Frances Burch directed, captured first prize; Mrs. Geraldine Young's boys' glee club won a first rank rating; Esther Duncan won first in the advanced grammar examinations for grades 11 and 12.

Rosemarie Schorle won first in beginning Latin tests; Russell Turner, first in manual training I; Eddie Orear, first in the trombone solo contest; the Sikeston band and orchestra each won number two ratings, as did the girls' glee club and the mixed chorus; Lois Hahs placed second in geometry; Betty Fisher, second in Latin I; Ray Allen Moll, second in manual training II; third place in the violin solo contest went to Catherine Ann Cook; third in advanced shorthand to Ellen Davey; and fourth in Trumpet solo to Errell Orear.

Mary Jane Cummins was hostess at a luncheon Thursday in honor of her birth anniversary.

Bob Denek and Billy Miller, two Sikeston High School students, have been selected by Henry Meldrum Post of the American Legion and Swamp Voiture No. 460 of the Forty and Eight, to attend Missouri Boys State at Fulton, Mo.

Two hundred and ninety-one lots in Clayton and Rowe Additions were sold at public auction in four hours and 20 minutes Saturday in one of the biggest "on the spot" land transactions in the history of Southeast Missouri. The lots sold for an average of $311 each, with a top of $790 for the average 50 by 120 foot lot and a high of $1,120 for an oversized lot, which was purchased by Ellis Alcorn.

The Crown Loan Corporation, with headquarters in Flat River, has purchased the Missouri Discount Corporation of Sikeston and was scheduled to take over the business April 30.

The Sikeston High School Bulldogs track team pulled a surprise upset by winning the annual Southeast Missouri District track and field meet at Houck Stadium at Cape Girardeau Saturday with a total of 31½ points. Lee Beal won the 100 yard dash; Hoyt Mothershead won the shot put; Tanner took third place in the 440 yard dash; Hoyt Mothershead won the shot put; Tanner took third place in the 440 yard dash; Greer was second in the 220 yard low hurdles; Beal came in second in the 220 yard dash; and finished in a four way tie for first place in the high jump and also finished second in the board jump, with Arnold taking fourth place; Mothershead took second in the discus; and the Sikeston medley relay team came in second.

Morehouse—Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Brawley will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary on May 6.

Babies born at the Delta Community Hospital April 28 were: Mr. and Mrs. Avery Hutcheson of East Prairie, a baby boy; and a son to Mr. and Mrs. James W. Heaton, jr., of Morehouse.

Babies born on the 29th include: A baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Ray May, 842 East Gladys street; Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson, 319 Smith street, a daughter; and a son to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Boon of Dexter.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Topp, jr., 238 North Kingshighway, are parents of a son born Friday. He has been named Warren S. Topp III. He has two sisters, Shyrl Ann, 9, and Sheila Irene, 6. Announcement has been received that the Rev. and Mrs. Lee Cook of St. Paul, Minn., are parents of a baby girl born on the 17th. Her mother is the former Miss Dorothy Gunn of Dexter.

Dr. Lamb

Blood clot or heart attack?

DEAR DR. LAMB — What's the difference between a heart attack and an embolus? When a person is put on Coumadin does this mean that he has had a heart attack? How can a blood clot go through the heart, enter the lungs and not be called a heart attack? I am talking about the case of my son. I am very worried about him. No one knows where the embolus came from. Can you guess? His legs were minutely examined, and it was stated that many clots originate in the legs but yet there is no sign of them on an examination.

My son has a job and travels in his own car or in airplanes. He has been instructed to exercise every 45 minutes. I presume to get the circulation going in his legs.

He was told that he only needed to take Coumadin for three months and that period is almost up. Yet a friend of his has been on Coumadin for the past 10 years; is that possible?

I lost my dear wife from a heart attack even though she had been taking the same medicine for blood thinning. The doctors restricted my wife's activity very severely, yet the doctors encourage my son to do things such as going out to drive golf balls. Any light you can shed on this would certainly be appreciated.

DEAR READER — Used in the sense of your son's problem, an embolus means a blood clot. It's clear from the rest of your letter that the doctors think that the blood clot or blood clots went to the lungs. Most blood clots of that type do form in the veins in the legs. Your son's doctors are perfectly correct in saying that they can examine the legs and not be able to detect the presence of a clot within one of the deep veins.

The clot that breaks loose from any location follows that blood stream just like a log going down a river. It rides with the blood stream through the right side of the heart. The blood comes out of the heart and goes to the lungs. The clots lodge in the lungs and never get back to the heart.

A heart attack is entirely different. Your wife had an obstruction in one of the arteries to her heart muscle. The similarity is that both can cause chest pains. Since it is important to keep the blood thinned in both cases, it is common to use anti-clotting medicines such as Coumadin in the treatment of both conditions. A clot from the vein in the leg can pass through the right heart into the lungs without causing any damage to the heart at all.

It's wise not to compress the leg veins by prolonged sitting as might occur with prolonged car rides or prolonged airplane rides. That also applies to people who do not have any blood clot formation as yet. Get up and shake those legs around to keep the circulation moving. It helps prevent all kinds of problems.

Obesity also appears to increase the chances of blood clots. For more information on effects of obesity send 50 cents for The Health Letter, number 2-7. Obesity: The high Cost of Fat. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

BEETLE BAILEY by Mort Walker

Dad, Can I Borrow One Of the 75 Cars Tonight

CAR FAMILY—Jack Whitmore stands amidst some of the more than 75 cars he and his father own. Jack and his father, Laurence, built a 5,000-square-foot building to house the autos, and a 960-square-foot structure to house Mrs. Whitmore's antiques. However, both buildings were full before they were finished.

BICKLETON, Wash. (AP) — Two-car and three-car garages aren't all that rare in affluent America, but what is the 75-car family to do?

A few years back Laurence Whitmore built a 5,000-square-foot building to house the best of his automobile collection, but he acquires cars at such a pace that the structure was filled before he finished it.

Whitmore's wheat ranch filled with cars and his 26-room house filled with antiques are less a symbol of affluence and more a symptom of addiction to collecting.

"Every time a relative passed away we'd end up with another house full of furniture. You can't sell something you've been given, so we'd just make room for it," he says.

Whitmore is partial to Studebakers, which he's been gathering since the line went out of production in 1961. He and his oldest son, Jack, have a model made every year after 1947 but still suffer "a few gaps" from 1923 to 1947.

They even collected an old school bus, which is loaned once a year to the local high school students for their "senior sneak."

Meanwhile, as the autos accumulated in the yard, Ada Ruth Whitmore was filling the house, preserving the history of the prosperous dryland wheat farming area that was first settled early in the 1900s.

The collection includes rolltop desks, marble-topped dressers, clocks and an entire room filled with stained-glass windows. "We had to do something," she said. "We had all those rooms upstairs filled with stuff and four kids sleeping in one room."

Whitmore then built a 960-square-foot concrete structure dubbed the "Whoop and Holler" museum, and again the collecting outpaced the construction.

"You wouldn't believe the stuff people give us," Laurence says. Not long ago someone left an antique cobbler's bench in the back of his pickup while it was parked in town.

"Never did figure out who brought us that," he said.

"Laurence wanted the bell from the Mabton Church several years ago, and he had to tear down the whole building to get it," says Mrs. Whitmore.

But bargain hunters beware. The Whitmore rule is look, but don't try to buy.

"We have a lot of stuff we're proud of and enjoy letting people see it," says Whitmore.

Enough is enough, however, and one of these days the Whitmores are going to stop collecting.

One of these days.

"We've got two trucks, an old wood stove and a bunch of furniture people are waiting for us to come and pick up," says Mrs. Whitmore.

Deaths

William Cantrell

E. A. Hanks, an elder at Shady Acres Church of Christ, officiated at services today for William Cantrell, 76, of Route Two, who died Sunday. It was incorrectly reported to The Daily Standard Monday that Hanks was pastor of the Blodgett Church of Christ.

Richard E. Shaw

SCOTT CITY—Richard E. Shaw, 74, of Cherry Valley, Ark., a retired minister, died at 5:10 p.m. Monday at the home of his son, H. R. Shaw, whom he had been visiting since Friday.

Born Sept. 14, 1901 at Huntsville, Ala., he was a son of Cordellia Starnes Shaw of Henderson, Ky., and the late Wesley Gregory Shaw.

A Church of God minister for 32 years prior to retirement in 1958, he was a member of Sharp's Chapel Church of God in Bay Road, Ark.

On Dec. 3, 1922 at Risco, he married Nona Edwards, who survives.

In addition to his widow, mother and son, he is survived by another son, Harold J. Shaw of Little Rock, Ark.; one brother, Garfield Shaw of DeKalb, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. Zillia Nins of Henderson, Ky.; two half brothers, Wiley Parker of West Frankfort, Ill., and Willie Parker of Albin, Ill.; and five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The body has been moved from Amick-Burnett Funeral Home to Cobb Funeral Home in Blytheville, Ark.

Services are scheduled at 2 p.m. Thursday in Sharp's Chapel Church of God at Bay Road.

Burial will follow in Akans Cemetery at Wynne, Ark.

Mary E. Holmes

CHAFFEE — Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Holmes, 73, owner and operator of Holmes Apartments, died at 8:45 p.m. Monday in Chaffee General Hospital, where she had been a patient since April 19.

Born Nov. 14, 1902 in Ballard County, Ky., she was a daughter of the late Louis and Nancy Abernathy Daily and had moved to Chaffee in 1941, where she was a member of the General Baptist Church and the Missionary Society of the church.

In 1922, she married William George Hart of Charleston, who died July 1, 1926. On Jan. 18, 1939, she married Clifton Leroy Holmes of Cape Girardeau, who preceded her in death Jan. 29, 1963.

Survivors include: one daughter, Mrs. C. K. Keller of Chaffee; one sister, Mrs. Margaret Hall of Chaffee; and four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Friends may call after 7 p.m. today at Amick-Burnett Funeral Home.

Services are scheduled at 1 p.m. Thursday in the Chaffee General Baptist Church with the Rev. Arvil Huffman, pastor, officiating.

Burial will follow in IOOF Cemetery near Charleston.

Florence Hensley

NEW MADRID—Mrs. Florence Lane Hensley, 82, died Monday at 6:25 p.m. in Shuffitt's Nursing Home No. 3, Sikeston Route Three, where she had been a patient for three years.

She was born on Oct. 1, 1893 in Tennessee, daughter of the late

Alcohol and drug program to be presented

The Knights of Columbus of St. Francis Xavier Council, in conjunction with a statewide program, will present a program on alcohol and drug abuse at 8 p.m. Thursday in the KC Hall, 829 Tanner St.

Bill Guth, a Cape Girardeau pharmacist, will present information on various drugs and their effects; Tony Heckemery, a local attorney, will present legal ramifications of the drug abuse problem; and Henry Gerecke, chief of police of Cape Girardeau, will discuss the effect of the alcohol and drug abuse problem on law enforcement organizations.

The meeting is open to the public and admission is free.

New Madrid students feted

HOWARDVILLE — The New Madrid County R-1 Board of Education sponsored the second annual district honors banquet for selected students from all units of the district Monday night at the Vocational Technical Skill Center.

The 103 students were selected on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership and service. Principal speaker was Dr. Harry Sparks, former president of Murray State University at Murray, Ky.

The event was well attended by the students and their parents, representatives of communities of the district and local news media, as well as retiring personnel of the district, representatives of the elementary schools and other school officials.

The invocation, given by David Richards, president of the Matthews National Honor Society, was followed by the pledge of allegiance led by Dwight Mays, vice president of the Libbourn National Honor Society.

Miss Karen Horton of New Madrid sang the National Anthem. Master of ceremonies was Kenny Lucy, president of the New Madrid National Honor Society.

President of the board of education, T. L. Maschmeyer, paid a special tribute to former board member, Markus Koch, who has served on the board since reorganization of the district.

The honorees were introduced by Miss Marcie Matlock, president of the Parma NHS. Supt. Ray Melton introduced Dr. Sparks.

The program closed with remarks of appreciation by Miss Kathy Bowen, a member of the Libbourn NHS, and the benediction by Miss Emily Eftink, president of the Portageville NHS. Dinner music was provided by Robert Donze, band director for New Madrid High School.

Honor students from each unit included:

Outstanding vo-tech students from the Libbourn unit included: Kathy Bowen, data processing; Phil Burk, electricity-electronics; and Jimmy Jones, air conditioning.

Matthews — David Richards, Charles Lange, Nancy Lange, Russell McWaters, Kerry Nationa, Bryan Richards and David Wilburn.

Outstanding vo-tech student from the Matthews unit was Kenny Lape, vocational agriculture.

New Madrid — Kenny Lucy, Sally Poyner, Mary Kay Perry, Kim Estes, Lilly Anderson, Cynthia Carrell, Rhonda Collins, Rita Cooper, Sabra Edwards, Marsha Ellison, Danny Higginson, Karen Horton, Lee Hunter, Tammy Kimes, Lisa May, Marsha Perry and Charlotte Townsend.

Outstanding vo-tech students from the New Madrid unit included: Freddy Barbre, welding; Melissa Dawson, accounting; Karen Horton, secretarial practice; Carla Warren, health occupations; and Sam Young, auto mechanics.

Parma — Marcie Matlock, David Matlock, Debra Lowery, Tamra Beard, Cathy Stahl, Sherri Ashley, Mark Beard, Edna Bell, Scott Bondurant, Dorothy Brown, Kerri Keasler, Jerome Kinsey and Carol Parker.

Outstanding vo-tech students from the Parma units are: Tamra Beard, clerical practice; Janet Boyd, clothing and fabrics; Roger Kirk, auto body and fender; and Mike Simms, vocational agriculture.

Portageville — Emily Eftink, Rosemary Scherer, Pat Slaughter, Lisa Butler, Lisa Brown, Julia Buchanan, Michelle DeLisle, Linda Edgar, Gina Eftink, Marion Eftink, Mary Beth Eftink, David Ellington, Bruce Gowan, Trennis Henderson, Randy Hooser, Ronnie Hooser, Karen Hulshof, Randy Hulshof, Matt Killion, Richard Mangrum, Toni Mayo, Nancy Myracle, Lisa Phillips, Charles Ed Smith, Debra Stewart and Dianna Underwood.

Outstanding vo-tech students in the Portageville unit include: Pam Carlisle, graphics; Claudette Minnis, institutional foods; Mark Sweatt, building trades; and Kevin Young, farm mechanics.

SCHOOL WINNER

CHICAGO (AP) — Littleton Public Schools was the top winner in an annual competition "recognizing U.S. school systems for achievement in providing exemplary library media programs at the elementary level."

The Colorado school district won the national title to the "School Library Media Program of the Year," presented by the American Assn. of School Librarians and the Encyclopedia Britannica Cos.

Highway construction plans announced

JEFFERSON CITY — The Missouri State Highway Commission has announced a $210 million tentative construction and right-of-way acquisition program for fiscal 1977.

While work on the lengthy list of projects is planned for the coming year, Highway Department Chief Engineer Robert N. Hunter emphasized that some projects might not be started because of uncertainties involved in funding.

The tentative construction program for highways in the Bootheel area includes plans for extensive work on Highway 25, with resurfacing of a total of 11.8 miles. In Cape Girardeau County that includes 4.8 miles from Missouri Route 77 to the Missouri Pacific Railroad in Delta.

Additional work on Highway 25 includes installation of lighting at the Route AF intersection south of Dexter; grading, bridging, and construction of 24-foot wide roadbed through Malden. 4.4 miles with the installation of flashing lights; and paving 2.6 miles from north of Clarkton to west of Route M in two disconnected sections.

In Malden, along Highway 25, driveway and curb modifications with the installation of sidewalks, from Route J to Cleveland street, are planned. Five intersections in Dexter will receive lighting installations.

Highway 84 in Dunklin County is scheduled for improvements with grading, bridging and construction of new pavement for 5 miles from Route 84 to Arkansas Route 70.

In Mississippi County, plans are to resurface 5.7 miles of Highways 60 and 62 from Interstate 57 to Route EE at teleview.

Two interstate highway projects are scheduled for work in the fiscal year. Both projects are in conjunction with the planned completion of I-57 in Mississippi county near Charleston.

The projects are for paving, signing and fencing for 4.8 miles from Highway 60 northeast to north of Route J, and for construction of two 24-foot wide pavements, dual weight stations, signing and fencing for 4.2 miles from one mile north of Route J to the Mississippi River.

Only one major project is scheduled for the year on District 10 supplementary system roads. That project is in New Madrid County for Highway 162.

Planned for that route is the replacement of bridges, widening and resurfacing with part 24-foot and part 22-foot wide pavement and installation of flashing light signals. The portion of the route affected runs for six miles from Highway 153 east to the Route B south junction.

Chaffee teachers to receive four per cent salary increase

CHAFFEE — A four per cent salary increase has been granted teachers in the Chaffee schools.

And, in a departure from past policy, the Board of Education has decided to appoint to all the special committees of the board citizens from the community who will act in an advisory capacity.

Those boards include: curriculum, teacher coordination and proficiency; school policies; athletics; buildings and grounds and public relations. Members of the board and faculty were appointed to those committees at an April 19 meeting.

The board also named a new secretary to fill the vacancy of Charles Cunningham, who resigned. Mrs. J. R. Stephens was named to that post. Mrs. Barbara Arnold was elected treasurer.

Plans are now being made for the high school graduation in May, with Mrs. Betty Montgomery and Mrs. Henry Whitfield appointed to assist Supt. Reese Brown.

It was also announced that 36 seniors will be taken on an eastern educational tour in late May. They will be accompanied by class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McConnell and Mr. and Ms. Terry Glenzy.

In addition, board members Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grant will make the trip, along with Mr. and Mrs.

Bill Bradshaw.

Bids on the underground gas tank system for the schools were tabled for further clarification. Halter Gas Co. of Oran was the cheapest bidder at 42.9 cents per gallon. A bid on shades for the elementary school was also tabled with the board hoping for additional bids.

The board has also decided to sponsor 14 cheerleaders who will attend a special camp at Arkansas State University in Jonesboro, Ark., this summer.

A special meeting of the board has been called for May 3, when the recommendations for the hiring of new teachers will be made. The next regular meeting of the board will be held May 17.

Emergency funding for state agencies receives House okay

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — An emergency funding bill intended to supplement state agency budgets through June was approved by the General Assembly Monday and sent to the desk of Gov. Christopher S. Bond.

Meanwhile, the final appropriations bill concerning capital improvements for the fiscal year beginning July 1, is expected to be considered by the Senate today.

The emergency bill, totaling $62.57 million, was approved a half day earlier than its delayed deadline scheduled for today.

The measure includes $1.3 million in state payments to junior colleges, $1 million for a state program to vaccinate Missourians against a swine-like flu, $500,000 to set up a federally mandated welfare program, $10 million for state welfare payments, $1 million for planning and land acquisition for a new medium security prison in the St. Louis area, $600,000 to help clear the clogged court dockets in urban areas, and funds to pay judicial pay raises that went into effect last September.

The bill also includes $5 million for the purchase of Marillac College for the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

The compromise bill is nearly $8 million above the governor's recommendation, almost $9 million more than the House version and nearly $5 million higher than the Senate version.

The bill provoked a larger than normal number of opponents in the Senate, which usually approves its appropriations conference committee judgements without much discussion. The Senate vote was 21 in favor compared to nine opposed.

The capital improvements bill, totaling $58 million, was approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee Monday. The measure deleted funding for a medium security prison in the St. Joseph area, while committee members agreed to require the state Division of Corrections to build such a facility on land already owned by the state.

The Office of Administration and Corrections Division officials had first decided on a prison site in the French Bottoms area west of St. Joseph, but when legal problems involving the site arose, a new location was selected in the northwest part of the city.

Sen. Truman Wilson, D-St. Joseph, had indicated opposition to any site other than the original French Bottoms site.

The new location is "completely out of the question", said Wilson, who is an appropriations committee member.

After the committee decided to delete the $3.5 million for the French Bottoms site, its members agreed to the $7.5 million appropriated last year for the medium security prison, would be earmarked for a facility to be built on land already owned by the Division of Corrections.

That language would narrow down the possible medium security prison location to mid-Missouri, since that is where the division owns most of its land.

The committee also agreed to a $225,000 appropriation for planning a medium security prison in the St. Louis area. A $1 million appropriation for such a facility has been made in another bill.

The Senate's version of the capital improvements bill is about $11 million less in federal revenue sharing funds than the House approved measure.

In addition to the prison funds, other revenue sharing monies deleted were:

—$3.5 million for the Wainwright Building in St. Louis.

—$1 million for the Midtown Office Building in St. Louis.

—$3 million for the performing arts center at the University of Missouri-Kansas City.

The two St. Louis buildings are to be financed with revenue bonds, and the money for the performing arts center is being appropriated in another bill.
